Yacht Club's racing season is announced the race for the Commodore's Cup, to be sailed on Saturday next. The first prize offered by Commodore Rouse for the racing cruise to New-London, and won by his yacht, the Mistral, has been returned by him to the club, and is again offered for a race to Indian Harbor, Conn., and return. The course across the Sound and back will be as follows: From west to east across the starting line between and around Centre Island buoy, leaving it on the buoy, leaving it on the starboard hand; thence

They are filmsy racing machines, without the smallest pretence of comfort or accommodation, and among which all kinds of freaks are looked for. Their's called the Freak Cup."

"It is suggested in the protest that there was always a tacit understanding that such boats as the Dominion would not be built." said another man. "I never knew of such an understanding, and the rules which control the building in this class were set out at length and were recently reconsidered and amended, the general intention being to give the designer an absolutely free hand in developing the fastest craft possible, while inside the rules. The Akaba Alanka, Skate and others have all been freaks from Freakville. The reason why the catamaran principle has not been tried in these contests is because such a craft has never been made an all-around success and could not be depended on as against a ship-shape yeach. If Duggan has succeeded where others have failed, he is the supposed that the untaxed overhangs of the present day had been utilized by Mr. Duggan to overcome the old-time tendency of the catamaran to run her bows under water when heavily driven.

ROWING.

A FEELING AMONG CLUB MEMBERS THAT LOWER DUES WOULD HELP THE SPORT.

There is a strong feeling among some of the nembers of the Harlem River boat clubs that the yearly dues which they are called upon to pay are too high. It is not so much that they cannot afford to pay the dues as it is a growing impression among them that if the dues were lowered they would be enabled to bring many new members into clubs, in talking over this matter yesterday, said:

"Money is not as plentiful as it was years ago, when these dues were established and other social and athletic organizations offered a great deal for little money as an inducement for young men to join them. I am in favor of the boat clubs doing join them. I am in favor of the boat clubs doing likewise, because I think a club would be much better off with two hundred members paying $1 a month dues each than if it had only one hundred members at $2 each. Many of our clubs want young blood infused into them, and I think that the only way to get it is to offer special inducements to the boys to join them.

"It is of no use for the old members to talk of the large sums of money they have invested in the clubs. They deserve credit for what they have done, but it does not appeal to young men whom the clubs would like to gain as members. Young men are, as a rule, extremely generous, but the resources of the most of them nowadays are limited, and they are compelled by the nature of things to go where they can derive the most pleasure for the least amount of money. Therefore, I say, let some of these boat clubs reduce their dues to $1 a month, and I am convinced that in the end they will be the gainers by it. There has been a decided revival of interest in rowing of late, and within a short time, when things straighten themselves out, I believe that rowing in this city will become more popular than it ever was before."

The Harlem Rowing Club will probably have a crew in every race of the Middle States Regatta, on Labor Day. Captain "Jack" Nagle will represent the club in the quarter-mile dash for senior shells, while "Fred" A. Shafer and Stephen Dolan will row in the intermediate doubles. The club's senior four will be W. Amman, bow; Joseph Maher, No. 2: John Kemp, No. 3, and Mark Davis, stroke.

The New-York Cricket Association has under consideration a game for August 22, and it will probably be played either at Prospect Park or on the grounds of the St. George Cricket Club, Hoboken. The Carnadian team will be the strongest that has ever been sent out by the Dominion. There may be a few changes in it from the team which will represent Canada against the United States at Philadelphin, but it will be practically the same. The Canada team has been selected by the Canadaha Cricket Association and is composed as follows:

GOSSIP AMONG TURFMEN.

STAYERS AND EARLY SPEED—THE AQUEDUCT MEETING.

Milton Young is quoted as follows: "Hamburg is a fast horse and a high-class racer, but I do not class him as a stayer." It would be difficult to conceive a stayer under Milton Young's standard. The philosopher of McGrathiana has repeatedly stated that all his efforts in breeding were for the purpose of securing early speed and counting results by the number of two-year-olds bred at McGrathiana that win races. The records show that the best of Hanover's get, if stayers are counted have come from mares owned by turfmen who bred them to Hanover, hence the oracle of the Blue Grathiana that win races. The records show that the best of Hanover's get, if stayers are counted that of Hanover's get, if stayers are counted the best of Hanover, hence the oracle of the Blue Grathiana that win races. The records show that the best of Hanover, bence the oracle of the Blue Grathiana that win races. The records show that the Best of Hanover's get, if stayers are counted that leads to the staying qualifies of the Hanovers. Therefore he is a bit doubtful about Hamburg. When Marcus Daiy purchased Hamburg he mapped out a plan of campaign with him. He decided to start him in three races, the Belmont, the Realization and the Brighton Cup. Mr. Daily believed that his horse could win all three of them. If Hamburg succeeded in accomplishing this task he was to be retired to the stud either in this country or in England. If in the latter country Hamburg was to be put in training and started in a race to show the British turfmen what sort of a horse had been sent over to mate with the English mares that were to be bred to him. Hamburg's uraccountable faseco in the Belmont caused a slight change to be made to this season's Grand Circuit races. to be bred to him. Hamburg's unaccountable fiasco in the Belmont caused a slight change to be made in Mr. Daly's plans. The reports spread by busy-bodies that Hamburg had broken down caused him to be started at the Brooklyn meeting to show the public that he was sound and all right. He started in the Swift Stakes at Sheepshead Bay merely to give him a breather previous to the Re-alization. Hamburg started in five races this year,

HARNESS RACING.

BUFFALO MEETING BEGINS TO-MORROW WITH A SPLENDID ENTRY LIST OF CRACKS. With the movement of the Grand Circuit harness

horses eastward, the interest among local horse-men, which has been greatly aroused by the wonderful performances in the West, will be intensifled. It is now evident that 1858 is going to be a banner year at the trotting tracks if the race records up to date are any indication.

The Buffalo meeting, which opens to-morrow, signalizes that city's re-entrance into her old place in the Grand Circuit and promises to develop some sensational sport. The track is said to be light-ning fast and the four days' racing may be ex-pected to furnish surprises in the way of new champions. The purses aggregate $30,000, among which are several of the value of $5,000, the principal being the Queen City Stakes for the 2:16 trotters. In this race, among other cracks, are Directum Kelly Grattan Boy trotted three heats close to 2:10 at Cleveland, when he was heaten by H. M. Hanna's great mare, Mattle Patterson, 2:2014.

> Buffalo this week will be the Queen City Purse of $5.990, in which the two unbeaten trotters. Directum Kelly, 2:11%, and Mattie Patterson, 2:09%, are to come together for the first time. Mr. Butler's colt has won six consecutive races within as many works, and Mr. Hanna's mare has pulled down first money in five races since she made her first start for the season at the Highland Park meeting in Detroit five weeks ago. The Nebraska stallon Askey, who never lost a race until he met Mattle Patterson at Detroit, is among the other prospective starters. Mattle Patterson will probably be the favorite before the start.

AMERICAN IDEAS IN LONDON.

BAGGAGE COLLECTION THE LATEST TO BE ADOPTED, AFTER MANY YEARS.

From The London Chronicle.

The ratiway companies, having made up their miteds to introduce the American system of collecting and forwarding passengers' luggage, are, metaphycically, fulling over one another in their eagerness to have the fact known. The London and Southwestern, the London and Northwestern and the Great Northern send us almost simultaneously announcements of their adoption of the system. The prices also clearly indicate that a common understanding has been arrived at. All charge 6d a package 'within the company's collecting boundary,' which seems to be within two miles and a half of the terminus, and all alike have arranged with Carter, Paterson & Co. to collect outside this area at the rate of is per package within a radius of seven miles and is 4d when the distance exceeds this. The higher rates are, perhaps, a little excessive for light luggage, but seem reasonable enough for heavy trunks.

The introduction of this system is certainly a curious commentary on the leisurely manner in which we adopt American ideas. The practice has been in vorue in the United States for over thirty years, which seems to be about the usual time that it takes an American invention to be accilimatized here. Tramears, for example, were started in New-York about 18t5, and introduced here in 180, but were specific about the system made much headway. The messenger boy service, again, reached us just a quarter of a century after its establishment in New-York about 18t6, and introduced here in 180, but were specific payers made much headway. BIRDS STEAL THE ELECTRIC LIGHTS. KANSAS CITY SPARROWS' QUEER CHOICE OF

MATERIAL FOR NESTS.

From The Kansas City Star.

From The Kansas City Star.

"It's the birds," exclaimed the unhappy electrician to the superintendent.

For the fiftieth time a department of the great Swift packing-house had been plunged into darkness by the failure of the electric lights, and for the tenth time the superintendent had called the electrician, Mr. Kobell, to time.

"Birds—bosh!" retorted the superintendent.

"It's a fact!" protested the electrician. "The confounded birds take the safety strips between the binding posts for threads and try to grab them off for their nests. Every time they pounce on a wire they break the current."

"Bosh!" repeated the superintendent.

The electrician rushed out and returned with two limp sparrows.

"Look at the blisters on this one's feet," he cried, "and this one's bill is melted off."

Sure enough, the sparrows were burned and bilstered.

Under the eaves of the building the thin lead safety wires, resembling threads, had proved a charnel place of birds. These wires are inserted to burn out in case of a short circuit or grounded wire.

Now they are covered with mica to keep off the birds.

The cup to be awarded to the winner is the gift of A Howard Hinkle, and the competition for it is open of its annual tournament as August 23 to 25, inclusive, and Berkshire golfers will then have an opportunity to measure their skill according to open golding standards. Some of the notable en-tries will probably include Joseph H. Choate, jr. W. Bayard Cutting, ir., I. the smateur championship, which was made in The Tribune of yesterday, was received with city. In spite of the increased length of the tour-

it may be well to call attention to a paragraph in Secretary Kerr's circular, which says that "Competitors failing to compily with the requirements of Rule 4 will be disqualited." This rule reads: 'The scores shall be kept by a special marker or by the competitors noting each others scores. The scores marked shall be checked at the finish of each hole. On the completion of the course the score of the player shall be signed by the person keeping the score and handed to the secretary."

The question of Sunday golf playing has been causing a good deal of trouble at Lenox of late.
The Lenox Club has never permitted games on that day, but recently a few of the members have given themselves the liberty of a practice round or two, and this fact was soon noised about the quiet Berkshire village. According to the old town laws Berkshire village. According to the old town laws a ball game of any sort on the Sabbath is a lockup' offence, so, to make matters sure, the Executive Com altice of the club has passed a resolution forbidding the use of the links on that day. Not long ago a similar question came up for discussion at a golf club not far from Cleveland, and in the course of the contraversy a prominent minister offered to play golf himself in the afternoon if he might hold a service in the clubhouse in the morning. It is said that the offer was not accepted.

Preparations are now going forward among the Lenox players for the annual tournament there on September 5. The club has purchased a new Lenox Cup, to take the place of the one which A. H. Fenn won last year. There will also be a women's contest for a cup of dainty design, presented by Mrs. Carlos de Heredia. John E. Alexander has also presented a cup, and a fourth cup, the President's Cup, offered by William D. Sloane, will be a fine trophy.

A igust has brought many new players to the Argust has brought many new players to the Shelter Island links, and golf is now the order of the day. Adolph E. Smylle, Howard Whitney and Alfred L. Norris, all members of the byker Meadow Golf Club, have been prominent there of late. Norris recently made a record of 87 for the course, J. L. Taylor, who won the Palm Beach Cup last winter, and who is one of the most active golfers in the Crescent Athletic Club, is another visitor to the links, as is also C. M. Hamilton, of Raltusrol.
